

MESSRS. COLTER & SCOOTER, Editors.

"Let idle Ambition her baubles pursue, While Wisdom looks down with disdain, The home of the farmer has charms ever new,
Where health, peace and competence reign."

We have had during the past week, some " few days" of the most unprecedented warm weather that has ever come within the knowltion, ranged between 90 and 95, and often between 95 and 97 degrees. This is remarkably hot for April, and is generally considered very warm weather for August. The unusual drouth which now prevails is very ing use of this remedy, has secured the conunfavorable for farming operations, and we would here hint to those who are planting Cotton, to take advantage of these unfavorable circumstances and cover the seed deeply by throwing on two furrows, and when the seed are in a good sprouting condition to knock off with a board or a heavy iron tooth harrow.

be followed by a severe thunder storm, or by a continuation of a very distressing drouth. Let farmers prepare to meet the emergency in either case.

THE PLOW, LOOM AND ANVIL.

This interesting and useful monthly is one of the best Agricultural papers in Yankeedom. It is devoted to scientific and practical Agriculture, Manufactures, Mechanics, with designs for farm buildings, &c., &c.

Three dollars directed, post-paid, to Myron Finch, New York, will give any one of our readers a peep at its valuable pages. We have received the April No., and will probably find much to interest and profit us. We welcome it to our exchange list.

CANADA PROLIFIC CORN.

THE Southern Cultivator says that Mr. J. C. Richards, of Prattsville, Ala., has sent in a small package of the above variety of corn, which is thus described: "It is a handsome white corn and produces from three to eight stalks from each grain, each stalk bearing two or three ears of corn, and the suckers are as prolific as the original stalk, bearing an equal number of ears. This is not the sucker corn that shoots at every point. This variety is as late as the common Indian corn and will grow as tall."

put on us, we would immediately order ten 12 rows will only make $2.40 per ear, and that will only make $312.00 per bushel. by so doing we sell it for $312.00 per bushel. This stamps humbug upon the very face of the matter, but we will risk 25 cents on it any how. " Prove all things and hold fast to that which is good."

KEEP ONLY THE BEST STOCK.

The Eastern States especially, farmers It costs in this vicinity at least $50 to keep bacon; but the bacon from Beechmast feedthat thinks at all on the subject, can fail to very slow fatteners.—Ag. Gazette. he convinced that it is better economy to keep a span of well formed, active and powerful horses, even should they cost $300, than a pair of long-legged, light-bodied, broken-down stagers, even could they be obtained for nothing? So it is with cows. It is not easy to estimate accurately the cost of keeping cows,-in this neighborhood it is not far from $35 per annum-but we may safely aver that little profit is made except on the best animals.

The profit of pork making except in the great corn growing States of the West, is notoriously small, and this year it has been less than usual. We will not say that much money can be made here in feeding corn, even to a good Suffolk or Berkshire pig, but if it will not pay to fatten a well bred hog, that poison them, to loiter in woods full of to fatten the miserable race of pigs commonly found in most barn-yards.

The same is true of sheep. The profit on sheep the past year, especially on such as are kept principally for their wool, has been quite small-some good farmers think it has been on the wrong side of the ledger. Many are rushing out of the business, selling their flocks at a great sacrifice. It would be far better policy to go carefully through the flock, and select out the comparatively worthless animals Many flocks would in this way be reduced one-half, and by keeping them better, and using the prop er means to improve the breed, much more profit would be obtained for the food consumed. It might be well, too, in many cases, to get a coarser wooled, mutton breed of sheep. But this of course depends on the locality, the price of mutton, &c. At all events, whether, sheep are kept for wool or mutton, the most profit will be realized from the best bred animals.

What are and what are not well-bred animals, is a disputed point which it is not our purpose here to discuss. Could we see farmers fully realizing the well established fact, that carefully bred animals are always, in the aggregate, much more profitable than those which are chance bred, we should have higher anticipations respecting the progress of American Agriculture.

We have used it upon a tender-hided horse of ours, for the past three years, time and again, and found it effectual. When the horse is marked, the galled part should be cleansed with cold water at evening especially in warm weather, before using the whiskey and alum. I resorted to this remedy, carrying it with me when I journeyed, and have continued its use with undiminished approval, for more than twenty years. I apply no other remedy. When a horse has been put up for the winter, and has not been used, his breast and back will become tender. A single hour's use of the saddle or collar in a hot day, will then scald the breast so as to produce serious injury. My uniform practice has edge of our oldest citizens. To MAKE GOOD BREAD .- Mrs. Batcham am a farmer's wife and have been a housekeeper for more than twenty years; have raised a family of children, and the great part of that time have personally presided over my household affairs. I have therefore This kind of a drouth, says one of our not found much time to write for publication; oldest and most eminent citizens, is likely to but seeing in your excellent paper several items on bread baking, and believing I am pretty well posted in that department, I will give you and the readers of the Cultivator the benefit of my experience. Truth will bear twice telling.

In order to have good bread, an indispensable ingredient is good yeast. My mode of making yeast is as follows: To threee pints of water add one handful of hops, boil well ogether, strain and put the liquor into the oot again; then take three large sized potaoes, wash and pare them, and stir into the liquor while boiling, grate them, add one tablespoonful of salt, one teacupful of sugar or molasses, and thicken with a spoonful of flour; pour it out, and when cool enough, add yeast enough to rise it; when light, set it in a cool place for use.

To make bread, pare and cut two quarts of potatoes, boil them in water enough to mix one gallon of sponge; when well boiled mash and strain thro' a cullender, stir in flour while hot; when cool enough stir in a race. teacupful of yeast; then set to rise, and next morning make up your bread in the usual way; when light, mould it into loaves, and let it stand till fit to put in the oven. This is my way of making good bread and I know of none better. AUNT DEBBY.

CHILDREN.

IT is a mistake to think that children love the parents less who maintain a proper authority over them. On the contrary, they respect them more. It is a cruel and unnatural selfishness that indulges children in a foolish and hurtful way. Parents are guides and counsellers to their children. Printers, it is said, die at an early age. This is doubtless caused by the noxious effluvia rising from the types, the want of exercise, constant employment, and the late nours to which their work is prolonged. There is no other class of human beings whose privileges are so few, whose labor is so continuous, whose wages are so inade quate, as Printers. If a "typo" be a man of family, he is debarred of the privilege of enjoying their society at all times, because his hours of labor are almost endless, and his moments of leisure so few that they must be spent to recruit his exhausted energies, and prepare him for the renewal of his toils Poor fellow! he knows nothing of sociabilty and is shut out from the world as a convict in a prison cell. Truly he is in the world, yet knows not of it. Toil, toil, toil, by night and by day, is his fate, until premature old age ends his existence. For the advancement of science, morality and virtue, the chords of his heart are sundered one by one, and when his race is run, and time to him

When we hear mechanics crying out against oppression, and demanding certain hours for labor and for rest, we cannot but reflect upon this situation of our own craft: how every moment of their lives is forced into service to earn a bare subsistence, and how uncomplaining they devote themselves to the good of that same public, who wear them as a loose garment, to be donned when convenient, and doffed when no longer is no more, he goes down to the grave uncared for and unknown, though his existence

has been sacrificed for the benefit of his

Printers are universally poor men, and for two reasons. The first is-they rarely ever receive a fair compensation for their services. And the second is-that inured to continual suffering, privation, and toil, their pursestrings are never united at the bidding of charity, and the hard-earned "dimes" are freely distributed for the relief of their fellow men. Thus it is that they live poor and die poor, and if a snitable reward does not await them after death, sad indeed must be the beginning, the existence, and the end of poor "typos."-Petersburg Express.

The Wyoming Mirror relates a good joke of an old cohector, who was proverbial for his politeness as well as pertinacity. He was always in the habit of taking a delinquent debtor aside when he dunned him. One day he met a non-payer, upon an unfrequented road, some half a mile from any house, and probably the same distance from any human being. What does the old chap do but leave his buggy, call the other aside, and in a fence corner politely ask him for that little balance.

WILL stand the ensuing season at James Reynolds', near the Cherokee Ponds, on Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays, and at my Stable about one mile from Edgefield C. H., the other days of the week, at $15 the season and $25 insurance. All Mares sent will be considered by the season, unless some instructions to the contrary shall accompany them. Season to end 10th June. GAMBLE was bred by Col. BARRY, of Galatin, Tennessee, and is six years old this Spring. II was sired by Imp. Sovereign, his dam was Celerity by Imp. Leviathan. Celerity's dam was Patty Puff by Pacolet; Patty Puff's dam was Rosa Clack.

For pedigree and performances GAMBLE will compare with the best horses of his day. He combines strength and action with fleetness and endurance. He ran in Charleston in February 1853 the best race of two mile heats ever run over the course, and but for an unavoidable accident would have distinguished himself as a four miler. I will feed and pasture Mares at forty-five cents a day, but will not take upon myself any responsibility for accidents or escapes.

TALLAPOSEA Co., Ala., Jan. 2, 1852.

Dran Sin:—I send you this to certify to you that your Extract of Yellow Dock and Sarsaparilla has performed one of the most wonderful cures on ince that has ever been effected on man. I have been afflicted for forty y are with cruptions on my legs and feet; in 1848 they got so bad that I had to go on crutches, and in 1849 I had one leg amputated above the knee. In about nine months after my other leg broke out in large eating and running sores frout my knee to my foot, and discharged a great deal of offensive matter. My groin also broke out in large biles, which discharged much offensive matter, and at the same time my left band broke out in large funning sores nearly to my elbow. The misery that I have suffered for the last two years I cannot describe to you. I was if such agony that I never rested day or night.

In October last my son brought me one of your bodile wrappers; I read it, and found record of some wondefful cures performed by your "Extract of Yellow Dock said Sarsaparilla." I sent and got two bottles of it, and commenced taking it. In two weeks, to my great astonishment, my sores all became casy, and I could sleep all night, a thing I had not done for two years. When I had taker, six bottles, my sores got well as if by exchantment. I have now used in all eight bottles of your "Extract of Yellow Dock and Sarsaparilla," and I consider myself well.

I entreat all of the afflicted to try this medicine, for I believe it will cure any known disease in the world. Lay aside all prejudice and just try it, and proclaim its great worth to sufficing mankind and entreat them to take it, for it will cure them. My case is well known to a large portion of South Carolina, Georgia and Alabama, and if an should doubt the above cure, I invite them to call on me, and I will show them the sears. I can be found in Tallapoosa Co., Ala., one mile from Stock Ferry.
